

AM I READY?

Before you commit to becoming a Life Leader in your church, we recommend self-evaluation and reflection in addition to church leadership approval.

1. Prayer

Seek God's guidance as you make the decision to pursue being a Life Leader.

2. Self-Evaluation

As you pray, consider your walk with the Lord, your calling, your leadership skills, and the time commitment.

3. Church Leadership Approval

Anglicans For Life (AFL) requires that all new church ministries have the approval of the church's rector.

ABOUT

Life Leaders serve as the point-person in the church. They organize, plan, and lead life-related activities and ministry. Life Leaders also serve as the link between Anglicans For Life (AFL) and the local church.

RESPONSIBILITIES

Life Leaders serve to uphold a witness to the sacredness of life in their church. As the liaison, you share information from AFL with your parish family, and you inspire ministry and education that is needed in your church to help those hurting and struggling. Duties include, but are not limited to:

- Educating others about life topics by distributing our newsletter, Carpe Diem.
- Holding one Life-Affirming service (ex: Sanctity of Life Sunday) or offering a year.
- Promoting life in your church and community by communicating about life topics, volunteering, raising funds, and using tools AFL provides to educate others.

BENEFITS

- You will receive monthly emails that include updates about life-related news, publications, advocacy, education, and ministry support/resources.
- Your ministry will be listed on AFL's website by name, parish, city, and state.
- You will receive bulk quantities of our newsletter to share with your church.
- Life Leaders participate in AFL's monthly Zoom for Life calls that feature national leaders discussing critical life topics.
- Affiliation with AFL allows our programs and resources to impact more people, thus, creating a greater impact in YOUR community and the world, at large.
- Life Leaders receive a 15% discount off all purchases and event tickets.
- You will be uniquely equipped to navigate and deal with a variety of life issues that parishioners in your church face. As a result, you can serve their needs more effectively.
- You will have the opportunity to network with other Life Leaders. Often times, local churches collaborate with the intent of creating a larger life network in their area. For those individuals that aren't around other Life-Affirming churches, we've found that when Life Leaders and Chapter Leaders share their experiences and ideas, it aids those who are looking to grow their ministry in their own community.
