

Educational Programs

Project Life

Project Life is the first Anglican, adult education curriculum focused on life topics and action. This program equips you and your parish to be more informed and prepared to bear witness to the sanctity of every human life as seen through God's eyes. Abortion, abstinence, adoption, euthanasia, and stem cell research are a few of the topics addressed in this program. Leader's guide includes access to either a DVD or online video link.

Embrace the Journey

This eight-week series is designed to help you and your parishioners understand and apply God's Word to aging and end of life topics. Subjects include hospice, assisted suicide, advanced directives, practical problems in aging, funeral planning, and how to speak to your family about these topics. Elderly people and adult children of aging parents benefit from this program. Leader's guide includes access to either a DVD or online video link.

Practical Action Ideas

Quasar Conference

Host this unique conference at your church. It consists of three, one-hour lessons presented by AFL's president, Georgette Forney. She will address abortion, end of life issues, and action ideas for starting life ministry in your church that serve the greater community! This is a great first step if you want to start Life-Affirming ministry in your parish. For availability and scheduling, contact Georgette via email at Georgette@AnglicansForLife.org.

Life Lectionary

AFL's website features a searchable archive of over 150 reflections written by theologians using Scriptures as the point of reference. These teachings can be used in sermons, as part of a Sunday School class, or for your own personal edification. To view the archive, visit AnglicansForLife.org/LifeLectionary.

Anglicans in Action

This video series offers suggestions, resources, and ideas for life ministry on a variety of life-related topics. The goal of these videos is to encourage viewers to engage in achievable and practical actions that anyone in any church can do to defend and honor life. View all of the videos on AFL's YouTube channel at YouTube.com/AnglicansForLife.

Take Action

Are you interested in getting involved with life ministry, but you aren't sure how to get started? Use AFL's interactive website form to learn 100 ways to get involved! Simply select the areas of life ministry you are interested in, and receive ideas on how you, your church, and community can protect, honor, and celebrate life. View this form online at AnglicansForLife.org/Take-Action.
